

To: Matthews, Scott A LRL[Scott.A.Matthews@usace.army.mil]
From: McWhorter, Scott
Sent: Thur 8/29/2013 1:49:28 PM
Subject: RE: Citizens Energy - Tank Battery Incident (UNCLASSIFIED)

Hi Scott,

Family is doing great. Caleb will be seven weeks old tomorrow. I am actually transferring in a few weeks to the San Francisco office to be closer to family.

Can you look into this for me and let me know what you find out? The question came up whether we have jurisdiction over the ditch where they built the dam. The incident happened on May 22, 2013. Approximately 19,320 gallons of oil was spilled/leaked.

Thanks,

Scott

-----Original Message-----

From: Matthews, Scott A LRL [mailto:Scott.A.Matthews@usace.army.mil]
Sent: Thursday, August 29, 2013 6:44 AM
To: McWhorter, Scott
Subject: RE: Citizens Energy - Tank Battery Incident (UNCLASSIFIED)

Classification: UNCLASSIFIED
Caveats: NONE

Scott,

Thanks for the email and welcome back. Hope the family is doing good.

We do cover Greene County, it is just south of us. We have not been made aware of any oil spill or impoundment of a stream.

Thanks
Scott

-----Original Message-----

From: McWhorter, Scott [mailto:mcwhorter.scott@epa.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, August 28, 2013 5:09 PM
To: Matthews, Scott A LRL
Subject: [EXTERNAL] Citizens Energy - Tank Battery Incident

Hey Scott,

Do you cover Greene County? Are you aware of a recent oil spill into a tributary of the White River? Citizens Energy impounded the tributary to prevent oil from reaching the White River. I believe IDEM is aware of this. Let me know. Here are the coordinates: 38.972250, -86.987533

Thanks,

Scott

Classification: UNCLASSIFIED
Caveats: NONE